Review Finished Show Personal Property Advanced

Land improvements in Rush county were assessed at an average value of $150.51 an acre according to figures compiled in the county auditor's office since the county board of review has finished its work. During the assessing period it was variously estimated by officials that the average valuation of Rush county farm land and improvements would be near $150 and the figures today reveal that they were not far wrong.

This is in strange contrast to four years ago, the last time real estate was assessed, when the average valuation per acre of farm land and improvements was $50.57. This shows an increase of practically two hundred percent, or of $99.94 an acre.

The average valuation of the seven articles of personal property are also considerably increased over last year according to the figures which have been made since the valuations have been settled definitely by the county board.

The average value of horses assessed this year is $106.73; of cattle, $63.48; hogs, $18.79 each; sheep, $10.47 each; automobiles, $379.50; farm tools, $187.49 for each owner assessed; household goods, $150.44 for each householder assessed.

The average value of land and improvements is highest in Rushville township, being $169.01, and is the lowest in Ripley township, where the average assessment is $131.23. Assessing officials say some of the poorest land in the county is located in Ripley township, especially in the northwest quarter.

The averages for 1915 and this year are given as follows by townships:

Anderson—$52.19 in 1915 and $151.87 this year.
Posey—$48.72 in 1915 and $157.50 this year.
Center—$49.57 in 1915 and $151.31 this year.
Union—$51.00 in 1915 and $151.11 this year.
Richland—$48.19 in 1915 and $146.39 this year.
Noble—$53.08 in 1915 and $151.76 this year.

STRIKE IS OFF WHEN FOOD MINISTER QUILTS

Vote of Chamber of Deputies Not Regarded as Against The Entire French Cabinet

H. C. OF L. PROTESTS CAUSE

(By United Press.)

Paris, July 19.—French labor leaders today officially called off the general strike scheduled for July 21.

Their action was taken after the chamber of deputies voted lack of confidence in M. Boret, food minister, when the laborites considered recognition of protests against the high cost of living.

The food minister resigned after the chamber voted 227 to 213, expressing hope of a government policy.

It was not believed today that Premier Clemenceau would regard this vote as opposition to the entire cabinet but to replace Boret.

Richmond Physician Indicted For Throwing Live Baby on Dump

(By United Press.)

Richmond, July 19.—Responding to an order from court, Dr. F. Krueger, indicted on charge of involuntary manslaughter, today appeared before the judge of the Wayne county circuit court and gave a $10,000 bond.

He was indicted by the grand jury late yesterday after an investigation. He is accused of throwing a newly born baby on the dump. It was still alive when found. The grand jury investigated the case on statement of the coroner who charged the doctor with criminal negligence. His defense is that the baby was malformed and could not live.

LUXURY TAX IS PUT ON CASKETS

Will be Collected Because of Precious Metal Used on Handles
And For Ornaments

UNDERTAKERS TO BE ADVISED

Only Way to Avoid it is to Die at Once or Have Caskets Equipped With Leather

"and when I die,
Don't bury me at all
Just pickle my bones
in alcohol."

With a luxury tax on nearly everything now comes a new one. If you're going to die, you'd better die quickly, or else you will pay a luxury tax on your coffin.

Local undertakers will receive a warning in a few days that they must collect a luxury tax of 5 per cent on burial caskets which are fitted with precious metals, and the majority of caskets, it is pointed out, are fitted with precious metals, especially the handles and some of the decorations. Undertakers who do not charge the war tax will be subjected to a fine the same as any other merchant who disregards the law.

Casket manufacturers are making an effort to have the law changed to apply only to the metal parts of the casket which could be sold separate from the coffin. As the law will be interpreted, the tax is to be charged on the entire cost of the casket, that is one ornamented or fitted with precious metals.

So, if you want to avoid the tax, better have the undertakers put on wooden handles, or leather straps, or pickle your bones in alcohol.

Peace is Commemorated With Brilliant
Procession in London
Today—British Women March

(By United Press.)

London, July 19.—Great Britain or the part of Great Britain which could be packed into London sounded cheer after cheer as 19,000 allied troops representing 12 nations, passed in brilliant procession in commemoration of peace.

Flags and pennants gave the city a festive attire and millions choked the streets as a regiment of 3,500 Americans, under the command of General Pershing, started to lead the parade down Buckingham Palace road.

Besides the doughboys were 800 French and Italians, 400 Belgians and detachments from Serbia, Romania, Portugal, Japan, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Greece, China and Siam.

Field Marshal Haig led the British forces, followed by the Colonial troops.

After the soldiers came 4,000 sailors and marines and 1,000 merchant marines, lead by Admiral Beatty.

Six hundred wrens, waacs and wrass, marching 12 abreast, formed the evidence of the striking part British women had played in making victory possible.

King George, with other members of the royal family, army and navy officers and leaders of both houses of parliament, stood on the steps of the Victoria memorial, in front of Buckingham palace, to receive the salutes of the warriors.

A magnificent reception was given the marching hosts. The streets were bright with allied colors, some thoroughfares being flanked by stucco pylons supporting allegorical figures of victory. Eager spectators

PACIFIC FLEET ON WAY TO WEST COAST

Greatest Ever Assembled to Guard in Pacific is Headed by Twenty-five Destroyers.

200 SHIPS AND 33,000 MEN

(By United Press.)

Newport News, Va., July 19.—Headed by 25 destroyers, the Pacific fleet, the most powerful battle force the country has ever assembled to guard the west coast, left Hampton Roads this morning at 8:30 o'clock for its own waters.

For weeks the huge fleet has been gathering off Old Point Comfort. Admiral Rodman, commanding the fleet, was with the flagship, New Mexico, which was accompanied by seven battleships.

The Birmingham and the Pender Vestal were with the 55 destroyers and small ships. The fleet will make for the Panama Canal. It will be the greatest that ever passed through the canal.

When assembled on the Pacific it will be composed of 200 ships and 33,000 men. It will be twice the tonnage of the first fleet which sailed around the world in 1908.

From the time the fleet reaches the open sea, it will begin to increase. Six more battleships will join it as will all of the cruisers now on the Pacific coast. Some of the ships, particularly destroyers and 9 sweepers, are now in European waters. When the fleet is completed it will be composed of 16 battleships.

IS PLEASED WITH HIS CONFERENCES

President Wilson Feels That He Has Cleared up Many Points in Minds of Senators.

HE MAY ISSUE A STATEMENT

Believes Exposition in Regard to Shantung Clause May Lessen
the Opposition.

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson is pleased with the result of his conferences with republican senators. It was said at the White House today.

He feels that he has cleared up many points in the minds of senators with those conferences.

Senators, who conferred with, stated that he may issue a statement on the Shantung clause because he believes that an exposition on this matter would lessen opposition.

President Wilson's position on reservations to the peace treaty today was the subject of warm disputes among senators.

Those who wanted reservations declared the president has indicated to recent callers that he might be willing to accept explanatory reservations.

Administration senators replied that he is unalterable against any reservations.

But concerning the significance of the conference with President Wilson last night in the White House Senator Hitchcock, said: "The whole question now is the form and wording of the resolution of ratification." His reference to the wording of the ratification indicated there might be some concessions to those demanding reservation in the form of a mild explanatory clause in the resolution.

That the president had been searching the minds of republican senators to learn just how little they could be satisfied with in way of reservations, was the statement of one senator today who visited the White House yesterday.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR ANTI-DAYLIGHT RIDER

Agricultural Appropriation Bill Will be Before Senate Monday Minus Repeal Clause.

HOUSE VOTE IS 203 TO 171

Washington, July 19.—The 1920 agricultural appropriation bill will be before the senate Monday minus the daylight saving repeal rider which caused the president to veto the measure previously. Attempts of republican leaders in the house yesterday to retain the rider when the re-modeled bill was passed, were defeated through the coalition of an almost solid democratic opposition and a number of republican votes, the final vote being 203 to 171.

Consideration of the bill both in committees and on the floor was marked by sharp political clashes. While republican leaders insisted that early passage of the bill could be obtained only through retention of the rider, democrats declared this would result only in a second veto by the president.

ANSEL RESIGNS

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 19.—Lt. Col. Samuel Ansell, storm center of the recent fight to change the army court martial system, today sent his resignation to the war department. Ansell stated that he would combat the alleged court martial injustice as a member of a law firm whose offices are located in Washington and New York.

CHARGES AGAINST WILLIAMS

Alleged Comptroller of Currency
Shared $25,000 Commission

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 19.—Charges that John Williams, comptroller of the currency, had shared with his brother a commission of $25,000 for the sale to the government of the Arlington Hotel property here for $4,200,000, were made before the house rules committee today by Representative McFadden, Pennsylvania.

McFadden urged the committee to report the resolution for an investigation of Williams' conduct in office and declared that if the investigation is not held, an effort will be made on the floor of the house to impeach Williams. Efforts to prove charges are now being destroyed by Williams, McFadden declares.

SUNSTROKES LESS IN DRY TERRITORY

Local Physicians Call Attention to Fact That Heat Prostrations Decrease With Prohibition.

IT MAKES ONE SUSCEPTIBLE

Booze Brings on Many Sunstrokes—
How to Treat Persons Overcome
With The Heat

An extremely small number of sunstrokes and heat prostrations, not only in Rushville, but throughout the entire state, is pointed out by physicians here, as the result of prohibition.

A person soaked with booze is more susceptible to sunstroke, according to the doctors, and in the olden days when the saloons were in business here, it was a common thing to find a man "overcome" in the back alleys, being under the influence of liquor, and the heat of the sun.

"We have had no men filled with alcohol about our streets, and we have had no prostrations as the result of the intense heat", remarked Dr. Will C. Smith, this morning. "And you will notice that in the larger cities in Indiana, the cases have been very few—all on account of the state being dry".

Dr. Smith continued: "But there is a hot seige coming, and the weather man promises another few days of 100 degree temperature, and people should take precaution to avoid either heat prostration or sunstroke".

"One of the best things to do with a heat victim, is to first give him hot drinks, and put cool cloths to his head. A serious mistake is made by many persons giving the victim cold drinks immediately. He needs stimulating, but not alcoholic kinds, as the alcohol stops perspiration. This is the case of so many drunks who were overcome with the heat."

Heat prostration may be avoided by not over-eating, and by not taking too many cold drinks in the severe hot weather, it is warned. Dr. Smith said this morning that it has been several years since anyone suffered from a sun stroke here, and that prostrations are fewer and fewer each year, which is largely due to the absence of beer, whiskey and wines.

DISCUSS INTERVENTION

Paris, July 18.—The principal topic of discussion before the allied supreme council yesterday, the Journal says, was allied intervention in Hungary, "where military action seems the only means to end a situation dangerous for Roumania and Poland."

INSTITUTE SAME WEEK AS ASSEMBLY

Two Lectures Out of the Ordinary,

FORMER PLATFORM MANAGER

Supt. Llewellyn of Newcastle Has Enviably Success at Managing Chautauquas

The Rush county teachers institute, which will be held this year as usual, in connection with the annual Rush county chautauqua, will have two lecturers out of the ordinary in Prof. E. J. Llewellyn, superintendent of the Newcastle schools, who will also be the platform manager at the assembly, and Prof. George D. Wham, of the Southern Illinois State Normal university.

Prof. Llewellyn has never served in the capacity of platform manager anywhere but what he has been invited for a return engagement. Probably his first renown came as a result of his success as an organizer of Men's Bible Classes, having organized and lectured for many months to three of the largest Men's Bible classes in this country. He has never been able to accept all of the calls which come to him to appear before Men's meetings of various kinds.

Although he was left an orphan boy at the age of five years, he has never become soured on society but has an abundance of faith in men and women. Probably his great sympathy for men and women, and especially for boys and girls, comes from the experience and struggles of his early childhood. He knows what it is to toil and suffer and to wait. He made his way through college and the university by hard work and determination.

He is strong in his convictions, fearless in presenting the truth as he sees it, and is always inspired by a supreme faith, hope and love. He is an optimist and he work at the job.

In the past year he has spoken in eight states and in seventy-one of the ninety-two counties of Indiana, in addition to his duties as superintendent of city schools.

noted tenor who will be heard at Chautauqua at the head of the Davies Light Opera Co. The opportunity to hear such a splendid artist is one not lightly to be overlooked.

Admirers of fine paintings always crowd the chautauqua platform at the conclusion of Charles Crawford Gors's entertainment in order to get a further view of the five pastel paintings of the birds whose life habits are described and songs imitated by Mr. Gors. These paintings are Mr. Gors's own handiwork and are in themselves, a treat.

Humorous word pictures of the important personages making up the peace conference constitutes a most entertaining and educational portion of the address to be given by Mark Sullivan, world famous editor, who is coming to the chautauqua to speak on his impressions of the peace conferences, from which gathering he has but recently returned to America.

Alice Shrode sings, reads, whistles and dances her way into the hearts of everybody. At one chautauqua recently a bashful young man of twelve (Miss Alice is but thirteen) waited for her at the steps leading to the stage and pushed out to her a big stick of peppermint candy—some tribute for the enamored young man had bought the stick of candy prior to the opening of the chautauqua and had located himself on the front row, fully intending to devour it as the performance went on, but was so carried away by little Alice's artistry and personality, that his eyes preferred to feast on her smile of appreciation of the proffered gift, rather than his palate on the aromatic peppermint. Hear Alice Shrode when she comes to the chautauqua and you'll understand why she wins everybody. There is no resisting her charm.

During the twenty years in which the Dixie Jubilee Company, one of the feature attractions at the chautauqua, has been appearing in public, they have covered practically every northern state and have had many interesting experiences. At San Diego, California, they had the pleasure of participating in the musical program at the great San Diego fair. On this occasion they were accompanied on a one hundred thousand dollar Spreckles organ, by Herr Von Stewart, the great organist, in the "Gloria" from Mozart's "Twelfth Mass." At the conclusion of their number, they were heartily congratulated by Miss Gilbert, chairman of the musical committee, Mr. Davidson, chairman of the exposition and Her Von Stewart.

Impressed by the wonderful record made by women in the great war, J. Adam Bede, erstwhile wit of the house of representatives and one of the country's most popular platformists, recently remarked that he regretted "that he had but one wife to give to the country." A rather typical Bedeism. When Mr. Bede comes to the chautauqua some old ideas will get walloped on the solar plexus and some plain truths will be coated with laughs and shot into his audience. Bede just can't help being funny, but the essentials of his addresses are always serious. He has a wide knowledge of public affairs due to his participation in politics during a period of years, during which time he acted as Unit-

Don't Burn Good Fuel in a Poor Stove. TAKE

PEPSINCO

It's a useless waste of good fuel and needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness, if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment; if your food does you no good; if food distresses, rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is Pepsinco.

Ask your druggist—he sells and recommends Pepsinco.

Mr. Swine Breeder:

Are you vaccinating your hogs with Hog Cholera Serum when your hogs may have Necrotic Enteritis Hemorrhagic Septicemia, Necro-Bacillosis or any of a number of contagious and infectious diseases prevalent this year? If so, do you know that it will increase the death rate instead of lowering it? Do you know that we will not vaccinate your herd with Hog Cholera Serum if they have another distinct disease until the herd is free, as far as possible from the other infection.

Do you know that we have all the authority on Swine Diseases, both from the State and Washington, D. C., to aid us? Do you know that a layman who vaccinates could lose all the hogs in the county and would have no professional reputation to lose, while by law we must keep a record of serum and virus used, and could lose our permits to practice? Do you think the layman receives less for vaccinating your hogs than we do? If you really don't know, why don't you find out? If the layman farmer who vaccinates, if he is intelligent, could make more on his farm, would he be vaccinating? Would you prefer to pay that fee to a layman for the mere act of injecting your swine without an expert knowledge of their diseases or would you rather pay us a less fee and at least have the protection of the best authority that we could get, either from State or Government?

Do you know that many stockholders of the Swine Breeders' Pure Serum Company are employing us to vaccinate for them this year, because they will be protected if necessary by the best authority in the country.

Remember the Veterinarians discovered Hog Cholera Serum and Bacterin and Vaccine treatment and other treatments for other diseases without cost to you.

Remember they are the only ones qualified to continue research work on swine diseases and every day are working hard to get better treatment for the other diseases of swine.

Mr. Swine Breeder think this over seriously for your own protection.

Respectfully,

Dragoo & Mull,

WHAT GERMANY WILL DO

Program of Speeches Next Week to Explain Country's Aims.

Berlin, July 19.—Chancellor Bauer and Foreign Minister Mueller are to make "a program of speeches" next week in which they will tell to the world what Germany expects to do within and without her boundaries, now that peace is here.

It is believed these speeches will appeal to America. It is urged Germany should adopt a policy seeking to restore friendly relations with all nations.

SIGNS CIVIL SUNDRY BILL

President Acts on One of Measures Which He Vetoes

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson today signed the new sundry civil appropriation bill.

The original bill was vetoed because it did not carry funds for vocational rehabilitation work among wounded men.

The new bill carries $8,000,000 for this work in addition to $6,000,000 carried in another measure, making $14,000,000 the total available.

jammed every point of vantage, even the roofs being black with cheering thousands. Large numbers of people camped in the streets all night to hold places from which the parade could be witnessed. Huge grandstands accommodating thousands were erected for demobilized soldiers, an effort being made to arrange it so that every soldier home on leave from France should see the parade. Among those who witnessed the procession from these stands were 4,000 widows, mothers and children of officers and men killed during the war.

London for the last week has been overflowing with those who came to the city for the celebration. Many were forced to seek shelter in police stations and churches and large numbers slept on park and embankment benches.

Is The League a Stepchild?

A good many people have stultified themselves in their attitude toward the League of Nations. It seems to be the popular thing just now to say that President Wilson has portrayed us to the sinister politicians of the allies.

It shows that we have rather short memories. So far from inveigling us into a compact with themselves, the allies took a rather phlegmatic view of the league when the subject was broached, and were subjected to severe criticism from us for that reason.

When the armistice was signed President Wilson decided to attend the conference. From all parts of the country arose encomiums and adulation, with some criticism. We were told that the president had conceived the idea of a league to prevent future wars, the noblest program ever framed in a human brain. And he was going to Europe to shepherd the other nations into the fold—to force them into it if they would not enter willingly. He had formulated a new policy for the world.

We claimed, in fact, that the idea of a league to enforce peace originated in the superior sagacity of this country. It is rather late to deny it now. We were the originators of the idea. We wanted the credit for it, and if the scheme works well we deserve the credit for it.

The allies did not clamor for it. They simply acquiesced. To oppose the idea would have been savage. The only reservation which each nation made was manifested in an unwillingness to accept any condition inimical to its own national sovereignty and security.

The English were never strong for it. They saw no sense in opposing it, provided it did them no harm. If it did them any good, they would welcome it. But it must not affect their naval supremacy, or the security of their empire, their colonies and dependencies. Outside of that everything was all right. It was hooray for the league. They were even kind enough to write much of the treaty—as a guarantee that it would not hurt them.

The French said very much the same thing. If they were taken care of, they were agreeable. The other powers took much the same attitude. They have never taken any other view. If we decide now that the league will operate to our detriment—that we don't want one—we will hear no indignant protests from Europe. We will not be antagonizing them over there. They never wanted one, particularly. At all events they did not want one very loudly. The American delegates were the ones who did that.

Our delegates in Paris were demanding the league. Many in America were clamoring for it. It is of our own making, or rather we are responsible for its having been made.

Inasmuch as the league was literally forced upon the allies, we can hardly object if they want to coat the pill with sugar.

COAL PRODUCTION IN STATE ON INCREASE

Prospect of Serious Car Shortage is Causing Concern Among the Operators, However

OPEN TOP CARS IN DISPUTE

Terre Haute, Ind., July 19.—Coal production by Indiana mines showed an increase of more than 50,000 tons for the week ended July 12, over the previous week and operators are looking for a heavier production in July than in June. There are indications that warnings issued by federal officials and by the officers of the National Coal Association that the country almost certainly will find itself without a sufficient fuel supply this winter are beginning to be heeded and the storing of coal is under way, but not in the quantities that are warranted by the gravity of the situation.

Among operators the prospect of a car shortage is causing serious concern, and even now, with a comparatively light production, a car shortage is making itself felt in spots. Thus during the week ended July 12th there was a shortage of cars on the Big Four Railroad of 12.50 per cent, on the Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern, 5.94 per cent and on the Monon 10.22 per cent.

There are on side tracks thousands of new open top cars constructed by the government during the war and which are not in use, because of the failure of the railroads and the government to agree on the price at which they shall be taken over. Strenuous efforts are being made by operators through the National Coal Association to bring about an agreement and get their cars in use, as they will aid materially in handling the increased production which will be called for very soon.

HIGH RENT FACES GERMANY'S POOR

Housing Condition is Serious Because of Scarcity and Rents Have Been Boosted.

MAY HAVE A RENT STRIKE

Influx of War Workers and Idleness of Building During War Are Some Causes.

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, (By Mail)—Berlin is facing a serious housing problem. There are insufficient houses, and rents are vastly high. Out of this situation is developing a demand that the municipality do something to alleviate conditions particularly the conditions of the poor. Recently the question became so grave that there were threats among the populace to go on a rent strike—that is, to refuse to pay rent.

While this proposed refusal arose in part from the communistic spirit of the times, it was in part the expression of a long continued dissatisfaction with quarters and with prices. In some of the outlying districts, people live in barracks, and they have long since tired of this mode of existence.

As for even the well-to-do, the housing situation is difficult. Just as in the American national capital during the war, people advertised frantically for apartments or houses and offered fancy premiums so are Germans here advertising constantly with the bait of a large reward for desirable places.

Berlin, (By Mail).—Germany used to be the "Fatherland." Lately some writers have taken to using the more sentimental expression "Motherland."

While up to this writing the rent strike proposal has been merely sporadic threats, the question of housing has come up quite strongly of late for government consideration. And one of the answers given in the course of testimony on the subject was that the illicit trade in lumber and building material—just as with the "Schleichhandel" in food—had made prices of building stuff soar out of reach of ordinary contractors.

In line with development of socialistic proposals here, many persons would like the government to go into the housing business on a large scale, but this has not so far come to any material plan.

Berlin's housing deficiency arises both from the fact that there has been a considerable influx of war workers, and from the fact that, during the war, it was impossible to attend to normal building requirements. The tendency toward socialization has developed recently into a movement for municipal purchase of the street railway system. At this time, it appears that control will be taken over within a few weeks. According to the franchise granted the street railway company, the city has the right to regulate fares; and while it permitted a wartime raise to 17 1/2 pfennings, it now has told the company that this cannot be continued. A drop back to the old rate would mean that the company would lose hundreds of thousands of mark annually, and this fact is being used as a club by the city in its program of taking the concern over.

MAY BE SETTLED

Boston, July 18.—Early adjustment of the controversy between union employees and the Boston Elevated Railway Company, which resulted yesterday in the complete tie-up of the system, looked probable today.

Two huskies plunged into the river and aided by a man in a rowboat they managed to grab the feet of the man under water and with most unexpected difficulty they brought his head above water. Invisible hands seemed to be dragging him down to the river bottom. "Haul him in!" roared the foreman. The Irishman, wildly spitting water howled: "Throw me a line or by the powers O'll leave go of the domd thing."

BLACKBERRY TIME IS HERE

Hundreds Visit Southern Rush County—Fruit is Abundant

The southern part of Rush county has been the mecca for hundreds of Rushville people, in the last few days, in search of blackberries. The berries began to ripen good about the middle of the week and it was predicted that they would be at their height next week. Many pickers report an abundance of berries around Laurel, Cracker Ridge, Varnit's Valley and Andersonville, and the fruit this year is very good, caused by the recent rains in that part of the country. Blackberries were selling high in those parts, for the people would rather purchase than pick them, and many persons bought berries from 50c to 90c a gallon.

Formerly the Czecho-Slovaks had to learn German as the official language. Now everyone wants to know English.

PRODUCES MOST SWINE IN WORLD

U. S. Pork Products Become Well Established in The Diet of the American People

TWO-THIRDS OF 1918 EXPORTS

Appears That American Fresh Pork Has Met With Favor on British Markets

Washington, July 19.—The United States contains considerably more than one-third of all the swine in the world. Swine are less numerous than either sheep or cattle in the world at large, but are more numerous than either in the United States, which this year has more hogs than its nearest competitors combined.

These facts showing the vast extent of the American hog growing industry are cited by Dr. J. R. Mohler, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, as "an anchor of confidence for weathering periods of adversity in pork production."

He concludes that pork products have become as well established in the diet of the American people as hogs have become established on farms, and that as more than two-thirds of the total 1918 exports of meat were pork products and more than five-sixths of the animal fats exported were lard, there is a great potential pork-absorbing ability in the densely populated European countries.

"We must take care of that business properly and realize that conditions are constantly changing both at home and abroad," says Dr. Mohler. "We must study carefully what to do next and then do it."

Latest reports from department representatives in Europe indicate that pork importation by the United Kingdom may be considerably smaller in the future than during the war price being an important factor. In general, it appears that American fresh pork products have met with favor on the British markets, but there is room for improvement in the curing of hams and bacon. It is reported from France that the swine industry there decreased most rapidly between 1913 and 1916, but the decrease since 1916 has been comparatively small. Rapid recuperation seems possible with a good grain and potato crop this year and a continuation of present high prices. While the best grades of American hams and bacon met with French approval, it is said that these products are too expensive for the average French family. It is not likely that France will import breeding swine to any large extent, although continued importations of meats and fats are expected.

South America, on the other hand, is importing swine from the United States with considerable regularity. Since the first of this year there have been seven purchases and shipments ranging from about 30 to 70 head each of pure-bred stock for breeding, in addition to a number of smaller shipments.

"The most recent activity of the department likely to affect the swine industry, as well as other live stock, is the proposed new plan for hastening the replacement of inferior sires by good pure breeds. Early in June an outline of the plan was mailed to about 1,200 prominent breeders, live stock officials and extension workers, soliciting their comments before the campaign is definitely launched. Briefly, the owners of pure-bred sires of the main classes of live stock, namely cattle, horses, swine, sheep, goats, and poultry. The recognition will take the form of a printed emblem, bearing the breeder's name and which he may display. We feel that this plan will considerably hasten live-stock improvement in the United States and discourage the use of inferior sires. 'Inferior sires' include inferior pure breeds as well as scrubs. In a few months the campaign is expected to take definite form."

CINCINNATI REDS SURE GOING GOOD

Looks Like The Reds and New York Yanks Will Book up in The World's Series

BOTH TEAMS HITTING WELL

But Reds Are Little Shy on The Pitchers Which is Overcome by Heavy Swats

By H. C. HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, July 19.—Things are beginning to shape themselves for a battle between the New York Yankees and Cincinnati for a world's series next fall.

The two teams are the best in their respective leagues and have behind them shrewd managerial brains. If they don't win, it will be because of accidents.

Cincinnati has been all set to win a pennant for several years, but inside disturbances, bad management, and one thing after another have conspired to throw them off their stride and wind up with them at the wrong end. Pat Moran seems to have achieved the impossible. He not only has every man on his ball club pulling for him and playing hard every day, but he has captured the affections of that fickle individual the Cincinnati fan.

As for Miller Huggins, chief of the Yankees he could do a lot better for himself if he paid more attention to the public, but even under the handicap of a manager who has failed to make himself popular, the Yanks are driving ahead with all their power, and look like winners.

Huggins is a smart general. He studies baseball constantly. He has the faculty of injecting plays at moments in games when the opposition is turned upside down, their plans scattered. Good generalship is overcoming the fact that the Yanks have been handicapped by poor base-running.

There could be nothing more popular in baseball than an American league championship in New York, where the Giants have ruled the baseball public so long and a National league pennant in Cincinnati, which is the father of professional baseball.

Both teams are strong hitters and have gathered much of their power through effective pitching. The Reds are a little shy on material of the latter sort, but the few heavies who have been coming through have done a fine job.

The Yankees are overloaded with pitching talent. Huggins is able to fling a high-class star into practically every game he enters, a fact which makes the chances of the Cleveland and Chicago clubs fade. The White Sox are short of pitchers, while the Cleveland club is handicapped by having too many poor ones.

Summer Furs Give Way to New Maline

By MARGARET ROHE
Oh! all the girls wear 'em
—Just like in the harem,
Enhancing their beauty full score.
They're all net or maline
Through which much can be seen
Sure, its veils that I mean—
Nothing more.

New ork, July 19—When lovely Queen Louise of Prussia always swathed her neck and throat in airy lengths of tulle, gossips got busy. They said the reason for such an affection was either a scar or a goitre. If we started hunting reasons for all the wild fashions of the present mode, goitres would only cover one end of the situation. At least they can't be the reason why the summer girls are all shedding their summer furs to emulate Queen Louise's net neck swathes. Possibly it's because they find the frothy scarves of maline and silk net much more cooling to the bare skin than mole and fox skin. Probably it's because they find them so becoming.

In white, navy, black and brown maline or silk net these newest neck scarves are finishing neck and neck as a winning hot weather fashion. Any color, however, is permissible and some of the vivid shades of green, cerise, purple and yellow add just the striking right color not to an all white costume. Often the maline is fashioned into a veritable scarf with the ends gathered together with a tassel as a finish, but more chic are the lengths in their virgin state, as 'twere just as they are snipped off the bolt.

They are really the same maline lengths to which we have gone for many a season past to drape round our decollete shoulders on festive evenings. Now we have merely lifted them from bare shoulders and a ball room setting to bare throats and an outdoor environment. Now we wear them steadily around the fashionable cloak and our necks from A. M. to P. M. and adapt them as gracefully to the marts of trade as to the mazes of Terpsichore.

Cunning little close fitting draped turbans of the maline have been bobbing about on pretty heads for many weeks but now as an added attraction they have sprouted lengths of the maline that twist and fluff about the throat and lower face in a seductive haremlike manner. Thus the scarf is attached to the hat and the summer girl is apparently much attached to both.

Departing a bit from the all maline effect, a turban of gold tissue with tobacco-brown maline scarf is a rich and harmonious combination, though the brown scarf fastened to a turban of the same toned maline makes a brown study that most anyone would delight to be in.

Getting away from these hybrid veil and scarf affairs and down to plain veils, though the term plain is no word for them, flowing lace veils are having a renewed vogue this summer. In white embroidered net or black Chantilly, they make equally effective additions to the broad rimmed flower laden picture hats and to the quaint coquettish, mid-Victorian pokes.

The figured mesh veil with a deep plain chi on border is very smart for street wear as well as for motor-ing. Hexagon, filet and plain oval mesh veils with elaborate lace, embroidered, fringed and ribbon edged borders drip from every brim and an elaborate decorative veil of white gleaming with tiny globules of crystal beads and fringed with the same glittering drops in indeed a veritable "veil of tears".

15 YEAR OLD BOY MISSING

Dwight Quyle Disappeared From Home Here Thursday.

Dwight Quyle, 15-year-old grandson of Henry McMahon, of West Third Street, has been missing from his home since Thursday morning, and the police in this and other cities have been asked to search for him. The cause of his disappearance is not known by Mr. McMahon. The lad is described as being rather fleshy, about five feet six inches tall, blue eyes, and was wearing a blue suit with tan shoes. He was a little lame, and on the palm of one of his hands, was a burn.

Miss Zadie Clark of near Glenwood will have as her guest over the week-end Miss Blanche Petty of Wabash, Ind.

Mrs. Lee Plye will entertain the members of the S. E. T. club Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Megee had as their dinner guests yesterday at their home in West Fifth street, the Misses Marie and Alleine Waits, of Cynthiana, Ky., and Mrs. Amanda L. Waits, of this city.

Mrs. Sarah Henley, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Dale, Mrs. Guy Abercrombie and daughter Lorette and Mrs. A. L. Riggs were entertained at six o'clock dinner last evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Wilson, at their country home near Carthage.

Mrs. Oscar Miller pleasantly entertained the members of the Inter Nos club Thursday afternoon at her home west of the city. A short business session was held, after which the afternoon was spent at needlework. The hostess served dainty refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade at the close of the afternoon.

Members of the Young Married People's class and their families of the Plum Creek Christian church were delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will McMillin, northeast of the city, last evening. The affair was in form of a lawn party, the yard being lighted by electric lights, furnished by a local concern. The hours was spent in games and contests and the county agent, M. F. Detrick, who was a guest, gave a moving picture show. Light refreshments were served.

A number of friends and neighbors delightfully surprised Mrs. Forest L. Webb at her home south of the city Thursday evening, the occasion being her twenty-first birthday anniversary. The evening was spent socially and dainty refreshments were served at a late hour. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Rue Webb of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redden and daughter Miss Fanny, Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Webb, Mr. and Mrs. William Plessinger and daughter Minnie Ruth, and Arnold, Willie and Bert Redden and Harold Spacey and Harry Norton and daughter Evaline, of French Lick, Ind.

The Misses Janet Mauzy and Jane Griesser were the charming little hostesses at a party given in honor of their third birthdays at the home of Mrs. George Griesser in West Fifth street this afternoon. The sixteen small children enjoyed the afternoon playing games and late in the afternoon the guests were invited into the dining room where refreshments were served. The dining room was gaily decorated in juvenile gestures which added much to the success of the affair. The center for the table was a large Jack-

TIME IN 27 YEARS

Mrs. Geo. Fulton of Texas, Mrs. A. S. Barners of Near New Salem And A. C. Winchel in Reunion

COMMENT ON CHANGES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. George Fulton of Cooper, Texas, their son Rame, his wife and two children are visiting Mrs. George Fulton's sister, Mrs. A. S. Barnes of near New Salem for a few week; also Mrs. Barnes' brother, A. C. Winchel, of Dayton Ohio, is spending a few weeks vacation with his sister.

This is the first time in 27 years that all have met, as Mr. Fulton moved out west to Missouri some 38 years ago, and went from there to Cooper, Texas a few years later.

Mr. Fulton lives on a farm and is very well fixed, and he says he would not change places for anything now as he likes it out there; he says since he went out there that land has tripled in price in nearly all places. They were much surprised at the many changes that have taken place, since they were here last, for where once was a beautiful forest there is now a wheat or corn field.

Horner pie, from which streamers of ribbon led to each place, and upon pulling the ribbon the guest was rewarded with a pretty little gift. The place cards were large moons with elephants and monkeys beside it. The birthday cake with the candles was also a feature of the decorations. Covers were laid for Roy Waggoner, Jean Clark, Elizabeth Fleehart, Gay Adair Clark, Harriet Lee Endres, Joanne Harrold, Bonnie Jean Moore, Bonnie Jean Beale, Martha Ann Williamson, Avis and Ione Allen, Margaret Herkless, Judith Mauzy, Janet Mauzy and Jane Greisser.

PART OF STREET OPENED

The new brick pavement on the south side of Third street, between Morgan and Main, was opened this morning for traffic, thus opening Morgan street at the corner of Third. The work of flushing the remainder of the south side of Third was completed yesterday and this part of the street will be open in about a week. Work is now being started on the north half of the street, and the contractors expect to have the street completed by August 10.

JULY CLEARANCE SALE

Opens Saturday, July 19th, Closes Saturday, July 26th

Because of the fact that all merchandise is gradually, but surely, rising in price in the market, it requires more than nerve for the merchant whose stock is clear and clean and keenly valuable, to put on a sale at any sort of discount from the selling price.

But—just now—because of our gratitude for a most liberal one-half year's business, we feel obligated to our patronage, and to insure just an equity as possible to all, we again state that not one article will be sold at the marked price.

TAX CONFUSION CLEARED

None Required on Ice Cream Served With Meals, Kruyer Says.

Confusion among restaurant keepers as to the proper interpretation of the luxury tax law as applicable to ice cream sold with meals was relieved by a statement made by Peter J. Kruyer, collector of internal revenue, yesterday.

"When ice cream is served in restaurants and cafeterias as a part of a meal," Mr. Kruyer said, "it is not subject to the tax. The only time that ice cream is subject to tax in such places is when a dish of ice cream is ordered separately, and without any other food, or when it is served from a regular soda fountain which may be operated in connection with the restaurant. When a man goes into a cafeteria and selects roast beef and mashed potatoes and ice cream, the ice cream is part of the meal and not subject to the tax."

WHEAT LOST IN SHIPMENT
Elmer Hutchinson Sues C. I. & W. Railroad For $125 Judgment

Elmer Hutchinson of Arlington has brought suit in the circuit court against the C. I. & W. railroad, asking judgment in the sum of $125. In his complaint he states that on September 26, 1917, he shipped from Arlington to Indianapolis 106,320 pounds of wheat and that only 103,250 pounds reached its destination. For the 3,070 pounds which was short, he asks judgment for $125. He states that the price of wheat then was $2.14 1/2 a bushel. The wheat was consigned to the Acme-Evans Company of Indianapolis.

BOLSHEVIKS ARE CHURCH HATERS

Is The Only Institution in Russia Which They Insist on Operating on Capitalist Basis

ABOLISH CHURCH HOLIDAYS.

Many of the Churchmen are Trying to Adjust Themselves to the New Conditions.

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, July 10—The church is the only institution in Russia which the bolsheviks insist upon operating on a capitalistic basis. The bolsheviks threw out the church, as a state proposition, when they came into power and seized everything else. Formerly the church and state were closely allied, the state supporting the thousands and thousands of mosques.

Russia probably had more churches per square than any other land in the world. In Moscow there are more churches per capita than there are movie theatres in Los Angeles, and the city block that does not have more than one is difficult to find.

It was a hard blow to the church when the bolsheviks got control of Russia. The bolsheviks are church haters. According to them, the church was the means by which the czar regime duped the people. Religious holidays and religious ceremonies gave the priests a tremendous influence over the superstitious peasant.

The bolsheviks consider it a wonderful accomplishment, the abolition of religious holidays, which they said prevented the Russian from getting anything done. There were as many as two or three saints' birthdays to commemorate each week, according to the bolsheviks. The churchmen retaliate that the bolsheviks have not only cut off the holidays, but have also stopped work.

Following the fall of the Kerensky government, the churchmen doubled their efforts to stir up counter revolution, the bolsheviks say. The later retaliated by completely severing church and state, and forcing the priests to rely on contributions from congregations for support.

Some churchmen adjusted themselves to the new conditions, others went to work, and still others are marking time in prison cells for being over-zealous against the bolsheviks government. Congregations have fallen off though many churches are open. Incomes are limited to what the congregation cares to donate. They are now on the same financial basis as the American churches.

The tithe system is abolished, and no church can levy taxes. The bolsheviks further cut off the privilege of educating children, which was formerly done largely by the churchmen. Religion is separated from education.

In Russia it was the custom to worship the bones of saints, supposedly buried in churches throughout the land. The bolsheviks have partly completed a census of the bones of saints which is enlightening.

It shows already, say the bolsheviks, that certain saints of considerable renown had as many as twenty legs and more arms and heads, according to the number of churches which claim interned members of saint's bodies. Investigation of the tombs proved that many kinds of fakes had been committed by the priests to lead the simpleminded Russian to believe that he was worshipping a certain saint's bones. In some tombs the priests had stored money, food and wine, thinking the bolsheviks would never find it there.

The bolsheviks have conducted these investigations ruthlessly, and are giving them wide publicity. "Movies" are taken of many of the exposures, as far as the shortage of films will permit. Films for making movies is probably the article which the bolsheviks most need right now, considering its value in propaganda work.

All churches have not ceased to exist. In Moscow it is estimated that half of them are operating on the "capitalistic" basis and as inde-

OUTLINES PLANS OF LABOR CONFERENCE

Dr. James Shotwell Says Body Will Attempt to Draw up Laws for 8-Hour Day in World

MEETING TO BE IN OCTOBER

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 18—Plans of the international labor conference created by the peace treaty when it convenes here for its first meeting next October, were outlined today by Dr. James Shotwell, American representative of the organized committee of the conference.

This meeting, he declared, will be the first step taken in accordance with the peace treaty on behalf of labor.

Shotwell, head of the history division of the American peace commission, comments on these four major questions.

1—An eight hour day throughout the world. Shotwell added that the conference will undertake to draw up definite laws which will embody that principle so it can be applied by each nation.

2—State health as applied to unemployment. "The conference in October will draw up definite laws with reference to unemployment," he said.

3—Women in industry. This is to be taken up with reference to three separate problems. First, guarding the health of mothers obliged to work for a living. Second will be enforcement of prohibition of night work for women. Third, consideration of women in dangerous trades.

pendent institutions, and are fairly successful.

Many of the churchmen are trying to adjust themselves to the new conditions and are preaching a more modern thought. In this they are following the example of the Jewish rabbis, who have been more independent and advanced than the Russian churchmen. Some of the priests, adjusting themselves more than quickly to the bolshevik regime, have become apostles of Lenin.

Practically all of the churches have been unmolested physically, and in Moscow their domes are still dazzling and golden in the skyline. Many of them are covered with gold plate, and a bolshevik proclamation prohibits anyone from removing the precious metal.

Washing that will make Clothes Wear Longer

- ¶ The many methods for washing clothes can be reduced to two classifications.
- ¶ Either they wear clothes out quickly—or they make clothes longer-lived.
- ¶ Only the sturdiest homespun could endure the scrub-board treatment to which grandmothers subjected the family clothes.
- ¶ Ours is the modern way—the way that makes it possible for you to obtain the longest possible service from the household linens and garments you buy.
- ¶ When you send us your garments and other household articles, they are never jerked back and forth over a wash-board. Our method is the simpler one of soaping and rinsing in tubs containing the proper chemical solution.
- ¶ Some of the dainty materials undergo an entirely different treatment than your woolen clothes, and we are equipped to cleanse any kind of material, from automobile seat covers, grandmother's shawl or baby's bonnet to your very rugs on your floors.

Dowagiac Steerable One-Horse Disc

The front wheel is a caster wheel permitting a short turn without lifting the drill and making steering between crooked rows easy.

The feeds are chain-driven from the axle of the two rear wheels which have ratchet hubs making both wheels drivers.

The Dowagiac five disc is self-guiding. It trails so perfectly that when the horse is driven midway between the corn rows the driver need not touch the handles and at the ends of rows the drill follows the horse in making the short turn. Each disc has independent up and down motion with spring pressure—the only way for uniform depth on uneven ground. With the convenient lever all discs are lifted when turning or transporting the drill to and from the field.

INSTITUTE SAME WEEK AS ASSEMBLY

Continued from Page One. noted tenor who will be heard at Chautauqua at the head of the Davies Light Opera Co. The opportunity to hear such a splendid artist is one not lightly to be overlooked.

Admirers of fine paintings always crowd the chautauqua platform at the conclusion of Charles Crawford Gors's entertainment in order to get a further view of the five pastel paintings of the birds whose life habits are described and songs imitated by Mr. Gors. These paintings are Mr. Gors's own handiwork and are in themselves, a treat.

Humorous word pictures of the important personages making up the peace conference constitutes a most entertaining and educational portion of the address to be given by Mark Sullivan, world famous editor, who is coming to the chautauqua to speak on his impressions of the peace conferences, from which gathering he has but recently returned to America.

Alice Shrode sings, reads, whistles and dances her way into the hearts of everybody. At one chautauqua recently a bashful young man of twelve (Miss Alice is but thirteen) waited for her at the steps leading to the stage and pushed out to her a big stick of peppermint candy—some tribute for the enamored young man had bought the stick of candy prior to the opening of the chautauqua and had located himself on the front row, fully intending to devour it as the performance went on, but was so carried away by little Alice's artistry and personality, that his eyes preferred to feast on her smile of appreciation of the proffered gift, rather than his palate on the aromatic peppermint. Hear Alice Shrode when she comes to the chautauqua and you'll understand why she wins everybody. There is no resisting her charm.

During the twenty years in which the Dixie Jubilee Company, one of the feature attractions at the chautauqua, has been appearing in public, they have covered practically every northern state and have had many interesting experiences. At San Diego, California, they had the pleasure of participating in the musical program at the great San Diego fair. On this occasion they were accompanied on a one hundred thousand dollar Spreckles organ, by Herr Von Stewart, the great organist, in the "Gloria" from Mozart's "Twelfth Mass." At the conclusion of their number, they were heartily congratulated by Miss Gilbert, chairman of the musical committee, Mr. Davidson, chairman of the exposition and Herr Von Stewart.

Impressed by the wonderful record made by women in the great war, J. Adam Bede, erstwhile wife of the house of representatives and one of the country's most popular platformists, recently remarked that he regretted "that he had but one wife to give to the country." A rather typical Bedeism. When Mr. Bede comes to the chautauqua some old ideas will get walloped on the solar plexus and some plain truths will be soaked with laughter and shot into his audience. Bede just can't help being plain—but the essentials of his address are always serious. He has wide knowledge of public affairs and a thorough understanding of political conditions in this country.

Mr. Swine Breeder:

Are you vaccinating your hogs with Hog Cholera Serum when your hogs may have Necrotic Enteritis Hemorrhagic Septicemia, Necro-Bacillosis or any of a number of contagious and infectious diseases prevalent this year? If so, do you know that it will increase the death rate instead of lowering it? Do you know that we will not vaccinate your herd with Hog Cholera Serum if they have another distinct disease until the herd is free, as far as possible from the other infection.

Do you know that we have all the authority on Swine Diseases, both from the State and Washington, D. C., to aid us? Do you know that a layman who vaccinates could lose all the hogs in the county and would have no professional reputation to lose, while by law we must keep a record of serum and virus used, and could lose our permits to practice? Do you think the layman receives less for vaccinating your hogs than we do? If you really don't know, why don't you find out? If the layman farmer who vaccinates, if he is intelligent, could make more on his farm, could he be vaccinating? Would you prefer to pay that fee to a layman for the mere act of injecting your swine without an expert knowledge of their diseases or would you rather pay us a less fee and at least have the protection of the best authority that we could get, either from State or Government?

Do you know that many stockholders of the Swine Breeders' Pure Serum Company are employing us to vaccinate for them this year, because they will be protected if necessary by the best authority in the country.

Remember the Veterinarians discovered Hog Cholera Serum and Bacterin and Vaccine treatment and other treatments for other diseases without cost to you.

Remember they are the only ones qualified to continue research work on swine diseases and every day are working hard to get better treatment for the other diseases of swine.

Mr. Swine Breeder think this over seriously for your own protection.

Respectfully,
Dragoo & Mull,
Veterinarians

Don't Burn Good Fuel in a Poor Stove.

TAKE PERSINCO

It's a useless waste of good fuel and needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness, if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment, if your food does you no good, if you are disturbed rather than benefited by eating, you have a poor digestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is PERSINCO.

jammed every point of vantage, even the roofs being black with cheering thousands. Large numbers of people camped in the streets all night to hold places from which the parade could be witnessed. Huge grandstands, accommodating thousands were erected for demobilized soldiers, an effort being made to arrange it so that every soldier home on leave from France should see the parade. Among those who witnessed the procession from these stands were 4,000 widows, mothers and children of officers and men killed during the war.

London for the last week, has been overflowing with those who came to the city for the celebration. Many were forced to seek shelter in police stations and churches and large numbers slept on park and embankment benches.

ENGLISH TEACHERS SCARCE
Czecho-Slovaks Formerly Had to Learn German Language

Prague, "Czecho-Slovakia." (By Mail).—Teachers of English are wanted in Prague and wanted badly. You can't get an English lesson at any price in Prague, unless you were one of the first to decide you wanted to learn English and signed up ahead of time.
A wave of learning has swept over Bohemia. Everybody wants to do it, or else learn "American," as the language is often called, thanks to President Wilson.
Formerly the Czecho-Slovaks had to learn German as the official language. Now everyone wants to know English.

PRODUCES MOST SWINE IN WORLD

U. S. Pork Products Become Well Established in The Diet of the American People

TWO-THIRDS OF 1918 EXPORTS
Appears That American Fresh Pork Has Met With Favor on British Markets

Washington, July 19.—The United States contains considerably more than one-third of all the swine in the world. Swine are less numerous than either sheep or cattle in the world at large, but are more numerous than either in the United States, which this year has more hogs than its nearest competitors combined.
These facts showing the vast extent of the American hog growing industry are cited by Dr. J. R. Mohler, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, as "an anchor of confidence for weathering periods of adversity in pork production."
He concludes that pork products have become as well established in the diet of the American people as hogs have become established on farms, and that as more than two-thirds of the total 1918 exports of meat were pork products and more than five-sixths of the animal fats exported were lard, there is a great potential pork-absorbing ability in the densely populated European countries.
"We must take care of that business properly and realize that conditions are constantly changing both at home and abroad," says Dr. Mohler. "We must study carefully what to do next and then do it."
Latest reports from department representatives in Europe indicate that pork importation by the United Kingdom may be considerably smaller in the future than during the war price being an important factor. In general, it appears that American fresh pork products have met with favor on the British markets, but there is room for improvement in the curing of hams and bacon. It is reported from France that the swine industry there decreased most rapidly between 1913 and 1916, but the decrease since 1916 has been comparatively small. Rapid recuperation seems possible with a good grain and potato crop this year and a continuation of present high prices. While the best grades of American hams and bacon met with French approval, it is said that these products are too expensive for the average French family. It is not likely that France will import breeding swine to any large extent, although continued importations of meats and fats are expected.
South America, on the other hand, is importing swine from the United States with considerable regularity. Since the first of this year there have been seven purchases and shipments ranging from about 30 to 70 head each of purebred stock for breeding, in addition to a number of smaller shipments.
"The most recent activity of the department likely to affect the swine industry, as well as other live stock, is the proposed new plan for hastening the replacement of inferior sires by good pure breeds. Early in June an outline of the plan was mailed to about 1,200 prominent breeders, live-stock officials and extension workers, soliciting their comments before the campaign is definitely launched. Briefly, the owners of pure-bred sires of the main classes of live stock, namely cattle, horses, swine, sheep, goats, and poultry. The recognition will take the form of a painted emblem, bearing the breeder's name and which he may display. We feel that this plan will considerably hasten live-stock improvement in the United States and discourage the use of inferior sires. Inferior sires, in other words, pure breeds as well as sires. In a few months the campaign is expected to take definite form."

CINCINNATI REDS SURE GOING GOOD

Looks Like The Reds and New York Yanks Will Book up in The World's Series

BOTH TEAMS HITTING WELL
But Reds Are Little Shy on The Pitchers Which is Overcome by Heavy Swats

By H. C. HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, July 19.—Things are beginning to shape themselves for a battle between the New York Yankees and Cincinnati for a world's series next fall.
The two teams are the best in their respective leagues and have behind them shrewd managerial brains. If they don't win, it will be because of accidents.
Cincinnati has been all set to win a pennant for several years, but inside disturbances, bad management, and one thing after another have conspired to throw them off their stride and wind up with them at the wrong end. Pat Moran seems to have achieved the impossible. He not only has every man on his ball club pulling for him and playing hard every day, but he has captured the affections of that fickle individual the Cincinnati fan.
As for Miller Huggins, chief of the Yankees he could do a lot better for himself, if he paid more attention to the public, but even under the handicap of a manager who has failed to make himself popular, the Yanks are driving ahead with all their power, and look like winners.
Huggins is a smart general. He studies baseball constantly. He has the faculty of injecting plays at moments in games when the opposition is turned upside down, their plans scattered. Good generalship is overcoming the fact that the Yanks have been handicapped by poor base-running.
There could be nothing more popular in baseball than an American league championship in New York, where the Giants have ruled the baseball public so long and a National league pennant in Cincinnati, which is the father of professional baseball.
Both teams are strong hitters and have gathered much of their power through effective pitching. The Reds are a little shy on material of the latter sort, but the few heavies who have been coming through have done a fine job.
The Yankees are overloaded with pitching talent. Huggins is able to slip a high-class star into practically every game he enters, a fact which makes the chances of the Cleveland and Chicago clubs fade. The White Sox are short of pitchers, while the Cleveland club is handicapped by having too many poor ones.

Summer Furs Give Way to New Maline

By MARGARET ROHE
Oh! all the girls wear 'em
—Just like in the harem,
Enhancing their beauty full score.
They're all net or maline
Through which much can be seen
—Sure, its veils that I mean—
Nothing more.

New ork, July 19—When lovely Queen Louise of Prussia always swathed her neck and throat in airy lengths of tulle, gossips got busy. They said the reason for such an affection was either a scar or a goitre. If we started hunting reasons for all the wild fashions of the present mode, goitres would only cover one end of the situation. At least they can't be the reason why the summer girls are all shedding their summer furs to emulate Queen Louise's net neck swatches. Possibly it's because they find the frothy scarves of maline and silk net much more cooling to the bare skin than mole and fox skin. Probably its because they find them so becoming.

In white, navy, black and brown maline or silk net these newest neck scarves are finishing neck and neck as a winning hot weather fashion. Any color, however, is permissible and some of the vivid shades of green, cerise, purple and yellow add just the striking right color not to an all white costume. Often the maline is fashioned into a veritable scarf with the ends gathered together with a tassel as a finish, but more chic are the lengths in their virgin state, as were just as they are snipped off the bolt.

They are really the same maline lengths to which we have gone for many a season past to drape round our decollete shoulders on festive evenings. Now we have merely lifted them from bare shoulders and a ball room setting to bare throats and an outdoor environment. Now we wear them steadily around the fashionable cloak and our necks from A. M. to P. M. and adapt them as gracefully to the marts of trade as to the mazes of Terpsichore.

Cunning little close fitting draped turbans of the maline have been hobnobbing about on pretty heads for many weeks but now as an added attraction they have sprouted lengths of the maline that twist and fluff about the throat and lower face in a seductive haremlike manner. Thus the scarf is attached to the hat and the summer girl is apparently much attached to both.

Departing a bit from the all maline effect, a turban of gold tissue with tobacco-brown maline scarf is a rich and harmonious combination. though the brown scarf fastened to a turban of the same toned maline makes a brown study that most anyone would delight to be in.

Getting away from these hybrid veil and scarf affairs and down to plain veils, though the term plain is no word for them, flowing lace veils are having a renewed vogue this summer. In white embroidered net or black Chantilly they make equally effective additions to the broad rimmed flower laden picture hats and to the quaint coquettish mid-Victorian pokes.

The figured mesh veil with a deep plain chi on border is very smart for street wear as well as for motor-ing. Hexagon, filet and plain oval mesh veils with elaborate lace, embroidered, fringed and ribbon edged borders drip from every brim and an elaborate decorative veil of white gleaming with tiny globules of crystal beads and fringed with the same glittering drops in indeed a veritable "veil of tears".

15 YEAR OLD BOY MISSING

Dwight Quyle Disappeared From Home Here Thursday.

Dwight Quyle, 15-year-old grandson of Henry McMahon, of West Third Street, has been missing from his home since Thursday morning, and the police in this and other cities have been asked to search for him. The cause of his disappearance is not known by Mr. McMahon. He is described as being rather chubby, about five feet six inches tall, blue eyes, and was wearing a blue suit with tan shoes. He was a little boy and on the palm of one of his hands was a burn.

Miss Zadie Clark of near Glenwood will have as her guest over the week-end Miss Blanche Petty of Wabash, Ind.

Mrs. Lee Pyle will entertain the members of the S. E. T. club Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street.

A short business session was held, after which the afternoon was spent at needlework. The hostess served dainty refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade at the close of the afternoon.

Members of the Young Married People's class and their families of the Plum Creek Christian church were delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will McMillin, northeast of the city, last evening. The affair was in form of a lawn party, the yard being lighted by electric lights, furnished by a local concern. The hours was spent in games and contests and the county agent, M. F. Detrick, who was a guest, gave a moving picture show. Light refreshments were served.

A number of friends and neighbors delightfully surprised Mrs. Forest L. Webb at her home south of the city Thursday evening, the occasion being her twenty-first birthday anniversary. The Misses Janet Mauzy and Jane Griesser were the charming little hostesses at a party given in honor of their third birthdays at the home of Mrs. George Griesser in West Fifth street this afternoon. The sixteen small children enjoyed the afternoon playing games and late in the afternoon the guests were invited into the dining room where refreshments were served. The dining room was gaily decorated in juvenile gestures which added much to the success of the affair. The center for the table was a large Jack-

MEET FOR THE FIRST TIME IN 27 YEARS

Mrs. Geo. Fulton of Texas, Mrs. A. S. Barnes of Near New Salem and A. C. Winchel in Reunion

COMMENT ON CHANGES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. George Fulton of Cooper, Texas, their son Rame, his wife and two children are visiting Mrs. George Fulton's sister, Mrs. A. S. Barnes of near New Salem for a few weeks; also Mrs. Barnes' brother, A. C. Winchel, of Dayton, Ohio, is spending a few weeks vacation with his sister.

This is the first time in 27 years that all have met, as Mr. Fulton moved out west to Missouri some 38 years ago, and went from there to Cooper, Texas a few years later.

Mr. Fulton lives on a farm and is very well fixed, and he says he would not change places for anything now as he likes it out there; he says since he went out there that land has tripled in price in nearly all places. They were much surprised at the many changes that have taken place, since they were here last, for where once was a beautiful forest there is now a wheat or corn field.

Horner pie, from which streamers of ribbon led to each place, and upon pulling the ribbon the guest was rewarded with a pretty little gift. The place cards were large moons with elephants and monkeys beside it. The birthday cake with the candles was also a feature of the decorations. Covers were laid for Roy Waggoner, Jean Clark, Elizabeth Fleehart, Guy Adair Clark, Harriet Lee Endres, Joanne Harold, Bonnie Jean Moore, Bonnie Jean Beale, Martha Ann Williamson, Avis and Ione Allen, Margaret Herkless, Judith Mauzy, Janet Mauzy and Jane Greisser.

PART OF STREET OPENED

The new brick pavement on the south side of Third street, between Morgan and Main, was opened this morning for traffic, thus opening Morgan street at the corner of Third. The work of flushing the remainder of the south side of Third was completed yesterday and this part of the street will be open in about a week. Work is now being started on the north half of the street, and the contractors expect to have the street completed by August 10.

JULY CLEARANCE SALE

Opens Saturday, July 19th, Closes Saturday, July 26th

Because of the fact that all merchandise is gradually, but surely, rising in price in the market, it requires more than nerve for the merchant whose stock is clear and clean and keenly valuable, to put on a sale at any sort of discount from the selling price.

But—just now—because of our gratitude for a most liberal one-half year's business, we feel obligated to our patronage, and to insure just an equity as possible to all, we again state that not one article will be sold at the marked price.

TAX CONFUSION CLEARED

None Required on Ice Cream Served With Meals, Krayer Says.

Confusion among restaurant keepers as to the proper interpretation of the luxury tax law as applicable to ice cream sold with meals was relieved by a statement made by Peter J. Krayer, collector of internal revenue, yesterday.

"When ice cream is served in restaurants and cafeterias as a part of a meal," Mr. Krayer said, "it is not subject to the tax. The only time that ice cream is subject to tax in such places is when a dish of ice cream is ordered separately, and without any other food, or when it is served from a regular soda fountain which may be operated in connection with the restaurant.

When a man goes into a cafeteria and selects roast beef and mashed potatoes and ice cream, the ice cream is part of the meal and, not subject to the tax."

WHEAT LOST IN SHIPMENT
Elmer Hutchinson Sues C. I. & W. Railroad For $125 Judgment

Elmer Hutchinson of Arlington has brought suit in the circuit court against the C. I. & W. railroad, asking judgment in the sum of $125. In his complaint he states that on September 26, 1917, he shipped from Arlington to Indianapolis 106,320 pounds of wheat and that only 103,250 pounds reached its destination. For the 3,070 pounds which was short, he asks judgment for $125. He states that the price of wheat then was $2.14 a bushel. The wheat was consigned to the Acme-Evans Company of Indianapolis.

BOLSHEVIKS ARE CHURCH HATERS

Is The Only Institution in Russia Which They Insist on Operating on Capitalist Basis

ABOLISH CHURCH HOLIDAYS.

Many of the Churchmen are Trying to Adjust Themselves to the New Conditions.

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, July 10—The church is the only institution in Russia which the bolsheviks insist upon operating on a capitalist basis. The bolsheviks threw out the church, as a state proposition, when they came into power and seized everything else. Formerly the church and state were closely allied, the state supporting the thousands and thousands of mosques.

Russia probably had more churches per square than any other land in the world. In Moscow there are more churches per capita than there are movie theatres in Los Angeles, and the city block that does not have more than one is difficult to find.

It was a hard blow to the church when the bolsheviks got control of Russia. The bolsheviks are church haters. According to them, the church was the means by which the czar regime duped the people. Religious holidays and religious ceremonies gave the priests a tremendous influence over the superstitious peasant.

The bolsheviks consider it a wonderful accomplishment, the abolition of religious holidays, which they said prevented the Russian from getting anything done. There were as many as two or three saints' birthdays to commemorate each week, according to the bolsheviks. The churchmen retaliate that the bolsheviks have not only cut off the holidays, but have also stopped work.

Following the fall of the Kerensky government, the churchmen doubled their efforts to stir up counter revolution, the bolsheviks say. The later retaliated by completely severing church and state, and forcing the priests to rely on contributions from congregations for support.

Some churchmen adjusted themselves to the new conditions, others went to work, and still others are marking time in prison cells for being over-zealous against the bolshevik government. Congregations have fallen off though many churches are open. Incomes are limited to what the congregation cares to donate. They are now on the same financial basis as the American churches.

The tithe system is abolished, and no church can levy taxes. The bolsheviks further cut off the privilege of educating children, which was formerly done largely by the churchmen. Religion is separated from education.

In Russia it was the custom to worship the bones of saints, supposedly buried in churches throughout the land. The bolsheviks have partly completed a census of the bones of saints which is enlightening.

It shows already, say the bolsheviks, that certain saints of considerable renown had as many as twenty legs and more arms and heads, according to the number of churches, which claim interned members of saint's bodies. Investigation of the tombs proved that many kinds of fakes had been committed by the priests to lead the simpleminded Russian to believe that he was worshipping a certain saint's bones. In some tombs the priests had stored money, food and wine, thinking the bolsheviks would never find it there.

The bolsheviks have conducted these investigations ruthlessly, and are giving them wide publicity. "Miracles" are taken of many of the exposures, as far as the shortage of films will permit. Films for making movies is prohibitive the article which the bolsheviks most need right now, considering its value in propaganda work.

OUTLINES PLANS OF LABOR CONFERENCE

Dr. James Shotwell Says Body Will Attempt to Draw up Laws for 8-Hour Day in World

MEETING TO BE IN OCTOBER

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 18—Plans of the international labor conference created by the peace treaty when it convenes here for its first meeting next October, were outlined today by Dr. James Shotwell, American representative of the organized committee of the conference.

This meeting, he declared, will be the first step taken in accordance with the peace treaty on behalf of labor.

Shotwell, head of the history division of the American peace commission, comments on these four major questions.

1—An eight hour day throughout the world. Shotwell added that the conference will undertake to draw up definite laws which will embody that principle so it can be applied by each nation.

2—State health as applied to unemployment. "The conference in October will draw up definite laws with reference to unemployment," he said.

3—Women in industry. This is to be taken up with reference to three separate problems. First, guarding the health of mothers obliged to work for a living. Second will be enforcement of prohibition of night work for women. Third, consideration of women in dangerous trades.

pendent institutions, and are fairly successful.

Many of the churchmen are trying to adjust themselves to the new conditions and are preaching a more modern thought. In this they are following the example of the Jewish rabbis, who have been more independent and advanced than the Russian churchmen. Some of the priests, adjusting themselves more than quickly to the bolshevik regime, have become apostles of Lenin.

Practically all of the churches have been unmolested physically, and in Moscow their domes are still dazzling and golden in the skyline. Many of them are covered with gold plate, and a bolshevik proclamation prohibits anyone from removing the precious metal.

Washing that will make Clothes Wear Longer

- ¶ The many methods for washing clothes can be reduced to two classifications.
- ¶ Either they wear clothes out quickly—or they make clothes longer-lived.
- ¶ Only the sturdiest homespun could endure the scrub-board treatment to which grandmothers subjected the family clothes.
- ¶ Ours is the modern way—the way that makes it possible for you to obtain the longest possible service from the household linens and garments you buy.
- ¶ When you send us your garments and other household articles, they are never jerked back and forth over a wash-board. Our method is the simpler one of sousing and rinsing in tubs containing the proper chemical solution.
- ¶ Some of the dainty materials undergo an entirely different treatment than your woolen clothes, and we are equipped to cleanse any kind of material, from automobile seat covers, grandmother's shawl or baby's bonnet to your very rugs on your floors.

Dowagiac Steerable One-Horse Disc

The front wheel is a caster wheel permitting a short turn without lifting the drill and making steering between crooked rows easy.

The feeds are chain-driven from the axle of the two rear wheels which have ratchet hubs making both wheels drivers.

The Dowagiac five disc is self-guiding. It trails so perfectly that when the horse is driven midway between the corn rows the driver need not touch the handles and at the ends of rows the drill follows the horse in making the short turn. Each disc has independent up and down motion with spring pressure—the only way for uniform depth on uneven ground. With the convenient lever all discs are lifted when turning or transporting the drill to and from the field.
